OBITUARY - OWEN BROUGHTON

The Society was saddened recently, to learn of the death of a member of long standing, Mr Owen Broughton.

Mr Broughton had lectured in Fine Art Sculpture at the S.A. School of Art, and the Underdale Campus of the S.A.C.A.E. During this time he stimulated many student's interest in Aboriginal Art and Technology.

For many years Mr Broughton conducted research in locating ochre mines in the Flinders Ranges. He published many articles on Aboriginal sites and artefact recording methods, as well as producing a series of articles on the early records and theories on the origins and uses of Cylcons.

Mr Broughton's contribution to our knowledge of Aboriginal Culture is most valuable and members express their sympathy to his wife Mrs Anne Broughton.
