NOTICE RE TWO COLOUR DOCUMENTARY FILMS

"FISHERMEN OF THE SOUTH PACIFIC" which illustrates ethnic fishing methods in the Loyalty Islands, New Caledonia, Western Samoa, the Tuamotu Islands and the Trobriand Islands.

Also........

"KULA - ARGONAUTS OF THE WESTERN PACIFIC" which follows the passage of the trading expeditions of the Trobriand Islanders to the Island groups off South-East Papua. The surviving tradition of a former great trading alliance dealing in jewellery and various ethnic currencies.

Both films have been made by N.T.V. (Nippon Television Network Corporation) makers of "EXPEDITIONS INTO THE STONE AGE", a film dealing with New Guinea and no doubt familiar to you from their recent screening on the television.

Both films are beautifully done and illustrate the dictum that people filmed doing what they believe in make a vastly more convincing portrayal than people who act. The second film, "KULA", is one of the very few films to have really captured the emotion and informality of everyday Melanesian life.

Both films have an English commentary, and have been loaned for this screening by a special arrangement with N.T.V. and the A.B.C. Television films are not normally available on any other basis than viewing on the television screen, so this will be a rare opportunity for Society members.

Both films will be screened on Friday 19TH MAY, 1972 at 8. P.M., THEATRE NO. 5, NAPIER BUILDING, THE UNIVERSITY OF ADELAIDE.

THIS SCREENING WILL BE A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE ANTHROPOLOGICAL SOCIETY OF SOUTH AUSTRALIA.
